

I listen to KLOVE locally in San Diego. The station is uplifting in it's message, music and service to the community. The station offers information on local and nationwide Christian events, organizations and assistance centers. It provides free resources and direction on raising children in today's society and offers ways to improve communication between family members in a positive, loving way. Our community would be losing a beneficial resource if this station were to be replaced.